Greenearth and Alcoa

Last week these two companies agreed to collaborate over Alcoa lease land being available to Greenearth for the first two stages of its Geothermal Project. This is great news for Greenearth and a good move by Alcoa. This announcement is just what SCEG has been hoping for as it has been disappointing to see the difficulties beset by Greenearth over a suitable location for the geothermal. It was also clearly time for Alcoa to show support for cleaner energy schemes. Read the press releases from each company
